1. On 10 November 1950 a German woman employed at the Werder (N 53/Z 53) airfield said that the field was occupied by about 2,000 men. A number of officers, and 500 recruits, between 18 and 20 years old, arrived from the U.S.S.R. the preceding week. Officers were expected to arrive for a new course. The former commandant, a colonel, had allegedly taken over a command in the air force staff. The new commandant was said to be a captain, about 55 years of age. *

25X1 Comment. The numerical designations of the Soviet Air Force units stationed at the field are not known. The units probably belong to the headquarters of the Twenty-Fourth Air Army.
